Tell us what you need! Center for Student Engagement Focus Groups
Sponsored by Center for Student Engagement

Over the next few years, we'll see many transitions and changes on campus which will impact our student organizations and student leaders, including the renovation of the Campus Center. The Center for Student Engagement is proactively planning and strategizing on how to best support and uplift student leaders and organizations -- but to do this, we need your voice!

We invite all students (whether you’re the most involved, kinda involved, or not at all) to share their insights on how to maximize the student leader and organization experience at GT.

We will have 4 open focus groups:
Tuesday, 10/22 @ 10:00 AM
Wednesday, 10/23 @ 4:00 PM
Thursday, 10/24 @ 12:00 PM
Monday, 10/28 @ 3:00 PM

5 Dysfunctions of a Team
Sponsored by Office of Student Diversity Programs

This event fulfills a requirement of the GOLD Route. To learn more about the GOLD Route, click here.

Building an effective team takes a great deal of intentional work, and measurable results do not happen overnight. This workshop is based on the work by Patrick Lencioni, “The Five Dysfunctions of a Team.” Lencioni gives us great insight into why teams fail. On the other hand, he believes these dysfunctions can be overcome. Whether you want to unify your student organization or you want to be successful in your junior or senior design group, this workshop is for you. Check out this workshop if you want to ensure your team achieves cohesiveness and productivity to accomplish the goals you set out to achieve.

Heart and Wisdom Practices
Sponsored by Meditation Club

We are taught so many skills and so much knowledge throughout our education. Some of which is more useful and some not so much. Nevertheless, they are usually skills and knowledge about external matters related to your own individual success. We are not taught about inner matters related to how you perceive yourself in relation to others and the world at large.

In this special series we will engage in practical techniques designed to cultivate inner qualities of the heart, such as loving-kindness and compassion.
We will also probe into the nature of who we really are and how things actually exist, discovering our innate wisdom. These practices will provide you with meaning and fulfillment in your daily life.

Ehipassiko, come and see for yourself the transformative potential these practices have to offer.
