Sponsored by Leadership Education and Development

Come attend Georgia Tech's first ever Minor Fair where you can learn about the 60+ minors that Georgia Tech has to offer, all in one location at one time! Through this event, you will have the opportunity to chat with current students in the minor as well as faculty and staff. Academic projects will be on display for you to see the opportunity present within minor programs. By attending, you'll be able to make better-informed decisions about what academic minor programs you would like to pursue.

We will also have King of Pops and fun raffles as well as an appearance from Buzz! There will be an opportunity to win our one-of-a-kind Buzz flashdrives! Follow us on our social media channels to be the first to hear how you can win GT swag! Check in will be in front of the Ferst Center for the Arts and on the 2nd floor of the Student Center. See you there!
Open Meeting
Sponsored by Mental Health Student Coalition

Want to learn more about mental health policies on-campus? Have an idea for a mental health related project? Have a concern you want to talk about? Want to get involved? Come to our meeting and let's talk! Everyone is welcome! The Mental Health Student Coalition (or MHSC) is comprised of students who are considered mental health thought leaders at Georgia Tech. These students are some of the most informed and connected leaders when it comes to mental health initiatives. The coalition meets regularly throughout the year to maintain an active pulse on the latest programs and policies affecting mental health and, by nature of their collective understanding of complex mental health initiatives, serve as a hub of information for students, faculty, staff and administration.

Study Abroad Fair
Sponsored by Office of International Education

OIE is hosting the 24th Annual Study Abroad Fair on October 1 from 10:00 AM - 2:00 PM in the Student Center Ballroom. The Fair showcases the wide variety of international opportunities open to undergraduate students like exchanges abroad, faculty-led study abroad programs (like the Pacific Spring Study Abroad Program or the China Summer Program), Global Internships, and more. This is the best chance for students to meet program directors, student alumni from these programs, and also get information on how financial aid and scholarships will work when they study abroad.
Transferable Skills Workshop
Sponsored by College of Sciences Graduate Student Diversity Council (GSDC)

The College of Sciences Graduate Student Diversity Council (GSDC) contributes to creating a more inclusive graduate student community at Georgia Tech. In collaboration with C2D2, we are hosting a workshop to provide graduate students from underrepresented and diverse backgrounds with tools for professional and career development. This workshop aims to help students identify, convey, and sell skills gained as a graduate student, and learn strategies to demonstrate these transferable skills in job application materials. Food and refreshments will be provided and seating is limited. Please RSVP at: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSfzi335RcDLvmneI5uuqRyFi0z_P4XZ95AjzUzxTh0GVONlfA/viewform?usp=sf_link

#FridaysForFuture
Sponsored by Students Organizing for Sustainability

Join us outside the CULC to demand a cleaner climate and spread awareness on the Climate Crisis!
Points to note:
1. Bring your own signs. You're highly encouraged to reuse the leftover cardboard boxes when you moved in.
2. Be respectful and courteous. We do what we do because we are right, not to pick a fight.
3. Gather outside CULC near the roundabout. We'll avoid obstructing pedestrians or road users. We respect their right not to participate in #FridaysForFuture (though respectfully we hope that they'll join in the near future!)
4. Tentatively we will gather for one hour.
Child Health Day
Sponsored by For The Kids

Child Health Day is a U.S. federal observance holiday where agencies and organizations concerned with child welfare unite to raise awareness about the “fundamental necessity of a year-round program to protect and develop the health of children in the United States.”

This new semester at Georgia Tech is already filled with chaos and stress- Why don’t we do something about it? Monday October 7th is Child Health Day. This year we want to offer students a way to set aside their stresses and have a few hours for fun. We’re throwing a carnival!

Safe Space: Peer Education
Sponsored by LGBTQIA Resource Center

Safe Space: Peer Education (SSPE) is a student version of Georgia Tech's Safe Space program. The goals, messages, and content are the same in both programs, but SSPE will have more of a student focus, equipping students with the knowledge and skills to support a peer who comes out to them and to be effective allies to LGBTQIA communities. We provide free dinner to all attendees.

Fall Yoga Retreat - The Journey home
Sponsored by Bhakti Yoga

Join us on an adventurous retreat! Rejuvenate with yoga. Become attuned to nature. Cultivate the sanctuary of body, mind and soul! Our fall break road trip starts from downtown Atlanta and ends at the scenic Seminole State Park. This southwest Georgia park is on beautiful Lake Seminole, a 37,500 acre reservoir. We will camp near the water that offers breathtaking views. Quick access to the lake offers an excellent venue for daily yoga lessons. Wildlife is abundant throughout Seminole. A nature trail leads past gopher tortoise burrows and one of the largest long leaf pine forests. Come join our family and celebrate the awesome opportunity to: Camp under the stars, Perform Ashtanga, Pranayama and Sound Meditation with the rising and setting sun. Swim in the calming waters of Seminole Lake! Experience Ayurvedic healing/massages from experienced instructors. Deepen our understanding of intentionally tuning our consciousness and the mind. Read spiritually deep books in circles of compassion. Sing and dance in the wilderness around bonfires into the night! Interact with yoga experts and youth counselors on living a balanced life in a chaotic world. Share the deepest stories and our personal realizations about life's greatest gifts, and have the most awesome camping trips with the most awesome people!!!

Trailblazers invites you to our Fall Break trip to Cloudland Canyon State Park! Brimming with stunning waterfalls, gorgeous canyons, and forest as far as the eye can see, this land in the heart of the North Georgia is the perfect getaway for the busy Georgia Tech student.

Our trip includes an afternoon exploring the charming town of Chattanooga, two days of taking in the views through scenic day hikes, followed by a day of service work to support keeping the State Park beautiful and accessible for all visitors. Alongside a park ranger, our work may involve building needed trail infrastructure, maintaining existing trails, and removing damaging invasive species. Trails we will hike will take around the canyon rims exposing panoramic views of forested mountains, scenic rivers and waterfalls, and the heart of the Appalachian forests, and will be accessible to all skill levels.

In addition to hiking and trail service, there will be ample opportunity for stargazing, campfire songs, getting to know your fellow Tech students, and unwinding from the hustle and bustle of school.

The cost of the trip is in the range of $50-100 (depending on number of people signed up) which includes everything required. Logistics-wise, we will be leaving campus Saturday morning October 12th, camping in tents at a car-accessible campsite in the forest, and returning Tuesday October 15th in the afternoon.
